Fold and score on dotted lines

- - - Cut on the dashed lines

Lockdown 2020 Drawings Zine

- Print onto A4 photocopy paper
- Fold in half lengthwise, then fold each half in to meet the middle fold, giving four long quarters. Open out.
- Fold in half widthwise then fold in each end to the widthwise fold (effectively dividing the paper into 4 vertical quarters). Open out into an accordion fold.
- Following the dashed guidelines above, use a steel ruler, knife and cutting mat to make 5 separate cuts being sure to cut very precisely on the folds, to the fold junctions.
- Fold in half widthwise and find the two pages that have no images printed on them. Fold in half vertically as per the dotted lines on the illustration above. Fold in half again, then open out once and fold each of those sections in half so you end up with eight narrow folds. Refold these so you end up with mountain fold/valley fold/mountain fold/valley fold (four mountains, three valleys). This becomes the spine of the book.
- To fold the main book, start with the back page. Page 12 folds backwards, forming a mountain fold with the back page.
- Page 9 folds forward so it is face to face with page 10. Page 8 folds backwards forming a mountain fold with page 9
- Page 7 folds down onto page 8. Page 6 folds away from page 7. Page 5 folds face down onto page 6
- Page 4 folds back to form a mountain fold with page 5. Page 3 folds facedown onto page 4.
- Page 2 folds back to form a mountain fold with page 3. Page 1 folds facedown on to page 2.
- The front page folds away from page 1 and becomes the cover that you see.
- Fold in the accordions of the spine. You may like to staple through the spine, or apply some glue stick.
